I spent four years working on this film, and in the process requested fifty or sixty organizations and businesses to give help. Of all those, the following responded. I owe them much gratitude, and would ask you to visit their websites. The NRA Civil Rights Defense Fund, which contributes to Second Amendment scholarship and legal defense work. Paladin Press, with its online bookstore (and shooting & military related DVDs). Gun Owners' Foundation, which funds legal challenges and defenses in favor of gun rights, and Sturm, Ruger & Co., for whose creations I've had high regard for many years. Out of all those I asked, these were the ones that helped. I'd ask you to visit their sites and see what they have to offer.
